Once a year, NJEN provides the entrepreneurial community with an evening of posters, networking and information at Princeton University. Those providing posters can introduce their businesses to important contacts among New Jersey's research universities, small and large businesses, potential funding sources and professional service providers. This is a once a year opportunity to present your company's commercialization efforts side-by-side with the most promising university-based enterprises in the state - whether you are at the prototype, start-up, pre-revenue or revenue stage - this is the place to stand out. Every New Jersey research university will be participating.

Space is limited- Those interested in submitting a poster should register early and submit a poster request form with presenters' names, company/organization, poster titles and a brief abstract (100 words or less) via email as soon as possible, but not later than March 1, 2017

Poster specifications:

Posters can be up to 30" x 40".

If selected, posters must be available by 3:00 PM on March 29, 2017. Easels will be provided.
